And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

We ran across the following story the other day in a trade publication, "The Publishers Auxiliary," and thought it was amusing enough to pass along. We can not verify the accuracy of the yarn but the title is "Hey Boss! I'm Going to the Gala."

It arrived on my desk at the office a few weeks ago, postmarked Washington, D. C.

The slightly off-white enclosure bore black engraving topped with a gold crest.

It said: In honor of the President of the United States and Mrs. Nixon and the Vice President of the United States and Mrs. Agnew The Inaugural Committee 1969 requests the honor of your company. . .

Two days later, another much larger one arrived.

It said:

The Inaugural Committee requests the honor of your presence to attend and participate in the Inauguration of. . .

"Gosh, are you going?" my compatriots wondered.

"Heck, no. I'd have to buy a new dress." I quipped, meaning every word.

They laughed. Big joke.

"Well, you should at least tell the boss. This is a big honor," they reprimanded.

"Sure, sure."

"Well, if you don't tell him, we will. Right now. You can tag along if you want."

"You win. YOU can tag along if YOU want."

"Boss. . ."

Within two hours, I had a plane reservation and within a week the deposit was paid on my hotel room.

"We'll want to know what news coverage you plan, and whether you want a photographer," ordered the boss. Okay.

"What are you going to wear?" asked the women's editor, and, brother, that stopped me in my tracks.

"Wear?"

Let's see, I have that old knit two-piece suit and that new one that doesn't fit. Liz (my daughter) has a darling formal (five sizes too small) and Katie (my daughter) has an expensive gold mesh bag that her uncle sent from Paris and Bob (my son) has a salamander in case I lack for company.

I nonchalantly walked into the most chic shop I knew of and tried on a ball gown and bought it. Then I walked into a shoe store and a lingerie store and store after store and pretty soon my wardrobe looked pretty expensive, though meager.

Now for a suitcase and then back to the office.

The mail began to pour in, and the strangest people began to telephone, like the executive secretary to the executive director of the Illinois for Nixon executive committee of the Illinois Republican Central Committee, and all kinds of stuff like that.

Tickets began to arrive, like, paid ticket number 15,621 for inaugural gala and paid ticket number 322 for reception for distinguished press women, and stuff like that.

People around the office began saying the nicest things like "would you like to borrow my mink stole—it's insured" and "would you like to borrow my shoulder length kid gloves—my husband and kids gave them to me for Christmas last year" and "I have a pair of diamond earrings for pierced ears—do you have pierced ears?—Well, I wouldn't do it, they might get infected" and stuff like that.

I began to get mail from the official inaugural committee telling me that tickets to the Inaugural Gala weren't selling like hotcakes and would I care to buy a few at a hundred dollars apiece.

And, I got more phone calls and more invitations and people in the office began to leer at me and say boy, I wish it was me going, and

Cystic Fibrosis Fund Drive Nets $732.21

The drive to benefit Cystic Fibrosis Research was climaxed in Hamlin last week with a total of $732.21. The successful drive, held Feb. 17-28, was boosted by contributions from school students in grades one through five, a door to door canvass Thursday evening, and contributions from Hamlin businesses.

Mrs. Dougless LeCroy, chairman of the local drive, said expenses of the campaign, which were held to a minimum, were donated as well as many hours of time from many volunteers. Because of this generosity, she said, the entire $732.21 can be used exclusively for research and treatment.

Cystic Fibrosis, a disease that affects the respiratory and digestive systems of young children, is incurable. Mrs. LeCroy said there is hope that someday medical science will find a cure for this child killer. Now, thanks to Hamlin and other communities like Hamlin, she added, there is even more hope.

By MRS. R. M. BABB

What a contrast, 32 degrees this Monday morning after 74-degree weather Sunday. I am afraid the fruit trees are damaged as most of them were in full bloom. We have had 14 in of rain since last week.

Mrs. Montgomery has been able to leave Hamlin hospital and had visiting with her on Sunday, her daughter and family, the E. L. Porters from Roscoe.

Lea Dickerson is having to stay in since his return home from the hospital. I am sure this damp weather isn't helping him one bit.

Mrs. Roy Herron is home after a bout with the flu in Hamlin hospital.

Charles Scott is slowly improving in Hamlin hospital with a sinus infection.

Mrs. M. D. Douglass is at home now after spending several months in Holiday Lodge in Hamlin.

Our last report from Mr. George Parsons in Odessa is that he is quite ill again in the Medical Center Hospital and would like cards from his friends here.

You know just every once in a while I read where another Sylvester educated person has achieved some thing of note, J. F. (Sonny) Dozier has been made Principle of the Anson School, then on Sunday on the front page of the Abilene Reporter-News paper Kathryn Duff has been awarded the Keeter Award at H. S. U. in Abilene. We have Capt. Lanning, a twice veteran of Viet Nam; 2nd Lt. Lee Lanning, due to be in Vietnam not later than April 22 and Lt. Col. Hal Tindal in Germany. We have so many people that we are very proud of. Small communities, I find, are usually well represented in this world of ours.

Guests in the W. B. Brown home during the weekend were the Max Deel family of Levelland, the Gerald Prather family of Sweetwater.

Members of the Baptist Church enjoyed open house at the parsonage after church Sunday night. The pastor and his wife, Don and Treva Forrester hosted the affair.

HAMLIN STAMFORD

FROM THE FILES . . .

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
(February 22, 1924)

With the hope of making Hamlin a cleaner town and one of the prettiest little cities of West Texas, the Civic Committee of the Woman's Literary Club met on Friday of last week with a like committee from the Chamber of Commerce to perfect plans for carrying out a town-wide campaign.

Mrs. S. D. McMahon and Mrs. Naomi Proctor Young are opening up a "Grey Shop," in the South Wilson Building, next door to the Rest Room. These business ladies need no special introduction. That they will succeed no one will doubt.

Last week dainty little cupid's were sent out bidding guests to a party, Feb. 14 at the home of Mrs. A. E. Pardue, with Mrs. J. F. Taylor as co-hostess.

Others present were Mrs. Fred B. Moore, Mrs. John T. Day, Mrs. Harry Pitzer, of Abilene, Mrs. Leslie Cooper, Mrs. Mary Hardy Barrow, of Plainview, Mrs. W. W. Green, Mrs. H. O. Cassle, Mrs. Guy McNeal, Mrs. Burns Eakin, Mrs. J. P. Morgan, and Mrs. Louis Hardy.

The Woman's Literary Club met Friday afternoon, Feb. 15, with Mrs. J. P. Morgan.

A very interesting lesson on "The Measurements of Intelligence," was led by Mrs. H. D. Neff.

The Club's courses of study in psychology is proving very interesting and helpful, giving us a better understanding of our individual selves, both physically and mentally and a fine appreciation of others with whom we come in contact.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(February 25, 1949)

Plans for the construction of 18 new residences in Hamlin were announced this week with the opening of the Holman Addition at the west side of the city.

The houses will be located on property owned by Tom Holman. The tract lies north of the Rotan highway and immediately west of the Hamlin Memorial Hospital.

Plans for rearranging the names of streets and avenues in Hamlin to facilitate the finding of locations by strangers here, and to aid home residents in giving their proper addresses, were being made this week, when committees from both the Rotary Club and the Lions Club delved into the problem.

A heavy invasion of grasshoppers in the West Texas area is feared during the spring and summer. Farmers have been warned to begin the fight against the pests early in the year to prevent serious destruction of growing crops.

An exhibition of square dancing was given by the Hamlin Square dance team in the Colorado City American Legion hall last Friday.

Members of the team are Mr. and Mrs. Buck Wilemon, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Witt, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Witt, all of Hamlin, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Jones of Rotan.

Mrs. Fred Broach of Munday was guest speaker for the annual tea given for members of the Women's Literary Club last Friday.

Approximately 150 guests attended from Rotan, Anson, Stamford, McCaulley and Celotex.

TEN YEARS AGO
(February 26, 1959)

Following of plan of several years' duration, all five Hamlin schools will participate next week in the observance of Public Schools week.

Small grain crop in the Hamlin territory and elsewhere on the South Plains generally is getting desperate for moisture. The situation of continued dry weather throughout the area threatens the harvest on thousands of acres of wheat and oats.

A score of Hamlin High School girls were special guests when the members of the Woman's Literary Club met Friday afternoon at the Hamlin High School, with Mrs. Tate May being the director.

Members of Beta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Neil Laminack.

Mrs. Ed Boaz was in charge of the program and gave an interesting review on the book, "A Tool in His Hand" by Ann Harrison.

Early reports on the Heart Fund campaign in Hamlin community Wednesday were that some $415 had been turned in, according to Wesley Nail, drive chairman.

Rev. Calvin Bailey, pastor of the Hamlin First Baptist Church, will be the speaker for the annual sweetheart banquet Friday evening at Anson.

Ronnie Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parker of Hamlin was listed on the fall semester honor roll recently released by McMurry College at Abilene.

Hamlin Lions Club members will have lunch at the Hamlin High School cafeteria next Tuesday noon as part of the observance of Public Schools Week.

Neinda Philosopher Wonders If Russia Knows
What She Is Getting Into With Her Car Plans

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One figures Russia is in for trouble.

Dear editor:
I noticed an article in the newspaper on top of a stack I'd been saving to sit on when I go fishing and the ground is damp to avoid getting cold — astronauts are always coming down with a cold and you'd think the space program with its billions of dollars could afford to buy a few newspapers for them — that reported that the Russians are about to enter the automobile age.

Up to now, most of the cars over there have been owned by the top politicians, well they don't really own them, the government furnishes them free, which is cheaper than owning one, but Russia has announced it's opening up a factory to turn out about 600,000 cars a year and the general public can now get in line to buy.
Of course this is just a drop in the bucket compared with the 9 million cars produced in the U. S. each year, but the trend has set in and I'm afraid it proves Russia isn't as smart as she pretended.

What I mean is, does she know she now has to convince her citizens that Russia invented the traffic jam, the super highway, the clover leaf, air pollution, the traffic accident and the junk pile?
Does Russia know that the more cars the people get hold of the more roads they want, and the more roads they get the more cars they want? And the more cars they get the bigger the headache grows?

Why just the single job of putting up filling stations in Moscow alone will set her space program back ten years. Does she know what it's going to cost to build 10 million miles of highways? What it'll cost to train a million car mechanics? Make that half a million. You can get by with only about half of them trained.

And since most Russians getting cars will be grown, without previous driving experience, not having had a chance to bump off the reckless ones while they were teen-agers, you can see what the accident rate will be.

I suppose this is not very humanitarian, it may even be against the aims of peaceful co-existence, but frankly I hope the Russians turn out millions of cars clogging all their cities. They're not any better than we are.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Baptists of Double Mountain
Area Plan Evangelism Rally

Delegations from 61 churches of the Double Mountain Area are expected in Stamford today (Thursday) for an evangelism rally which will feature three men from the Dallas office of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The meetings, to get underway at 3 o'clock, will conclude at 9 p.m. and will be held at First Baptist Church, Stamford.

The afternoon meeting will be principally for pastors and staff members but others are welcome. Sam Prestidge Jr., of the church music division of Dallas, will lead a song and give the prayer.

Dr. Theron Farris of the evangelism division at Dallas will present the Bible study.

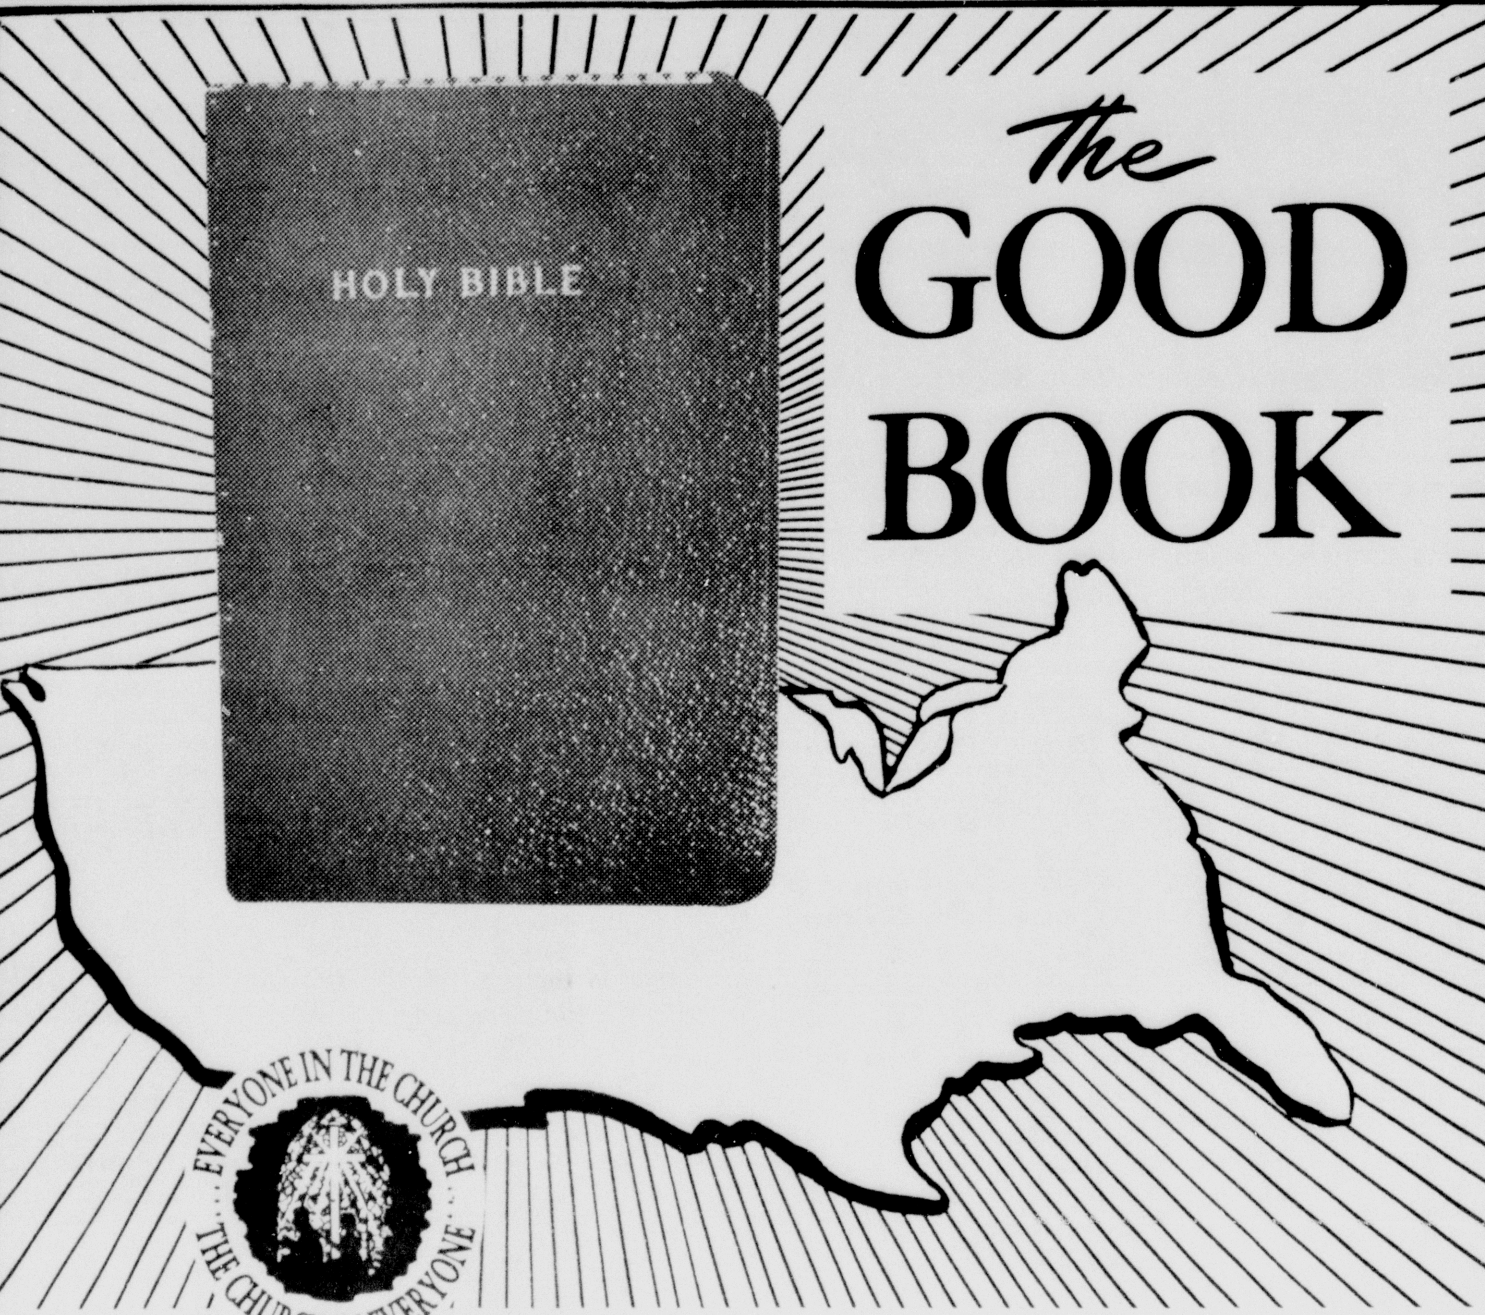

Farris and Prestidge will be joined by Dr. James Hester, also of Dallas, in presenting the "Count Down Calendar."

There will be a choir rehearsal at 6:30 and all singers are invited to take part. There will be no choir robes needed.

The night service will get underway at 7:10 p.m. with a song service followed by scripture and prayer by Rev. Jack Southerland, pastor of First Baptist Church, Stamford. Special music will follow this.

Dr. Farris then will present Crusade strategy through the Sunday school. A period of singing will follow.

Attendance goals in excess of 800 have been set for the rally

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

America in its early days depended on the "GOOD BOOK" for its guide in ethics, worship, and pursuit of freedom. These early gains are now in danger of falling and we need to turn all America once again to God and His word. America can be strong only when each individual looks to God for strength.
